

Backlit blue agate slab is a kind of high quality, unique and artistic architectural decoration material/translucent semi precious stone slab. Its unique design concept and excellent performance make it widely used in the field of modern architecture and interior design.

The backlit blue agate slab are distinguished by their characteristic indigo hue and translucent texture. Under the exposure of natural light, the agate slab shows a deep, mysterious blue, which is stunning. In the case of backlight, the agate slab shows a charming light transmission effect, like a blue wonderland.

Application place:

Interior decoration: Backlit blue agate slabs can be used for interior wall, partition, floor, ceiling, countertop and other decoration, inject modern sense and artistic atmosphere into the space. Under the lighting, the space is more unique and elegant.

Commercial space: It is suitable for the decoration of high-end commercial space, hotel lobby, luxury club and other places, providing a unique visual identity for brand building and improving the overall space grade.

Cultural and art venues: The artistic sense and light transmission effect of the backlit blue agate slab make it an ideal choice for cultural and art venues such as museums and galleries, providing a distinctive display environment for exhibitions.

SHENGYAO
CHINA • SINCE 2003

