Material properties:

The red agate stone is carefully selected, with a hard and dense texture (Mohs hardness level 7), wear-resistant and corrosion-resistant, and its translucent to slightly transparent texture gives the countertop a distinct light and shadow effect. Its unique iron oxide coloring mechanism creates a signature warm red, symbolizing passion, vitality and auspiciousness, and is regarded as a stone of energy that brings good fortune in Eastern culture.

Design ingenuity:

Modeling philosophy: The 360° perfectly symmetrical circle symbolizes harmony and perfection, and the smooth outline without edges and corners fits the modern minimalist aesthetics, which can be adapted to various space scenes such as living rooms, entrances, and display cabinets.

Process details: It adopts a combination of high-precision CNC cutting and manual polishing, with a smooth surface like a mirror and a smooth and delicate touch. It has multiple specifications with a diameter of 30-80cm and a thickness of 20mm, taking into account both visual tension and load-bearing stability.

Application scenarios:

It can be used as a tea table to interpret the oriental Zen, or as a jewelry display stand to highlight the brilliance of treasures; it can be placed in the office space to stimulate creative thinking, and it can be placed in the living room of the home to gather energy in accordance with the Feng Shui theory. Each tabletop retains the natural mineral veins and ice cracks of the original stone, creating a unique art collection in the world.

Red agate stone energy meaning:

Red agate has been regarded as the "stone of courage" since ancient times. Its gentle magnetic field helps to improve concentration and balance the energy of the body and mind. The round tabletop further strengthens the symbol of energy circulation, injecting a stable and vibrant atmosphere into the space. It is a collection-level elegant device that combines practical value and spiritual healing.
