

Soul Green Zebra Jasper Console Table

Design Statement

Inspired by the balance of strength and softness between the two sexes, this design uses curves as the main design element to create an intuitive sense of drama and artistry through streamlined shapes. Combining elegant gestures and tension, it presents a face that approximates the embrace of the two sexes, conveying an experience of elegance and tension in a limited space.

Product Story

I saw a couple standing quietly by the sea, embracing each other. Their hearts were beating in sync, as if telling a story of deep love and commitment. Their eyes were filled with tenderness and affection, and a passionate kiss lingered on their lips. I silently admired the scene, feeling warmth and emotion fill my heart. This pure love made me appreciate the beauty and power of life, stirring a warm current deep within my soul. I wanted to create a piece that could capture this beauty, an artwork that evokes memories of love and warmth. Thus, I chose silver line stone as the main material. Its soft luster and ability to cleanse the soul perfectly align with the emotions I wish to convey

Based on the unique meaning and energy characteristics of the green zebra jasper, the design concept of the green zebra jasper soul porch aims to create an energy field that guides people to feel a sense of peace and harmony from the first step into the home. Through the clever use of the natural beauty and energy of the stone, this space is not only a physical entrance, but also a spiritual and emotional transition space, helping to reduce the stress of daily life and stimulate internal creativity and intuition. In design, the application of silver thread stone creates a vibrant and balanced environment through the interweaving of color, texture and light, promoting peace of mind for the occupants and making every experience of returning home a time The baptism and rebirth of the soul.
